A Using the Operator Panel of a Diebold Opteva ATM

Opteva rear-service models include a rear display panel which provides status information and facilitates diagnostic and maintenance operations (referred to as the "Rear Operator Panel" or ROP). The system keyboard (available inside the ATM cabinet) is used in conjunction with the ROP for performing operator functions.

On Opteva front-service models, which have no separate display panel, the customer display is used for operator functions. To activate the Outscreen Operator Panel (OOP), follow these steps:

1. Insert the key and unlock and pull open the front fascia of the ATM. The lock is located on the upper left fascia panel.
2. Find the mode rocker switch, located behind the fascia at the top right of the enclosure. Hold down the mode switch for about 2 seconds to activate the OOP on the ATM's main display. Holding down the mode switch again returns the main display to the Hello screen (or the Out-of-Service screen if the ATM is not in Up state).
