Well, with the DIRECTV Genie DVR, consider your wish granted. Everybody loves a free, premium add-on, right. But, as we all know, there's always a catch. In 2018, we ranked it as one of the top five DVRs in the industry because every DIRECTV plan comes with an included Genie DVR at no extra cost. We'll break down each part of this wholehome DVR system, including details about the equipment hardware. Please note that while you can include up to eight TVs as part of your system, the Genie can provide signal to only four at a time. The major difference is how they power your satellite dish. The HR44 has an external SWiM power inserter, while the HR54's is built in. The SWiM inserter powers your satellite dish with such efficiency that the Genie earned ENERGY STAR certification. Both the HR44 and HR54 have only around 1 TB of storage 1,024 GB. This means you can record only 200 hours of HD programming 800 standard, so you may find yourself having to delete old recordings frequently. But if DIRECTV can get its Genie 2 model off the ground, it may finally give the Hopper 3 a run for its money. With 2 TB of storage, it has the potential to take on the best DVR out there—the DISH Hopper 3. Without this connection, you can't watch your recordings on the go. Based on availability, they can possibly set you up with this next generation of the DIRECTV DVR. There are a bunch of helpful features that will make your watching experience easier. These petite units can be tucked away discreetly, enabling the Genie to extend service without giant eyesore receivers all over your home. It'll save money in the long run, and you can get both wireless and wired models on Amazon. You might decide you can live with its average simultaneous recordings and storage space if you're impressed by its extra features, like NFL SUNDAY TICKET, 4K Ultra HD content, and a smooth onthego experience. With the Genie, you can create a "Mix Channel" to watch up to eight live sports programs at once.

That's a pretty sweet deal for sports fans—better than trying to fit eight TVs in your living room, for sure. This is the highest visual quality available right now, and you can experience it if you have a 4K-capable TV and the Genie DVR in model HR54 or higher. DISH and Xfinity are also 4K compatible, but neither have a dedicated 4K channel. You can stream DVR recordings in your home or download to watch on the go, and you can manage your recordings all from your phone. It even works as a remote, which is great for putting off the hunt for a misplaced Genie Remote for at least one day more. It seems DIRECTV updates its iOS version far more often. That's not to say DIRECTV won't eventually fix these problems, but it's something to keep in mind if you have an Android phone. Take a quick look at DIRECTV's specs below, or view all DIRECTV packages in detail. While it can record only five channels at once and up to 200 hours of HD content, it's great for 4K Ultra HD and good enough for onthego watching. She makes doortodoor DISH and DIRECTV salespeople uncomfortable with her in-depth questions—but if that's what it takes to get you the best TV experience, she's happy to do it.
