ASSIGNMENTS MARKED “MISSING” WITH WORK TURNED IN

Below is an example of an assignment that has an orange hexagon (meaning “missing”) with an ICON beside it (a green puzzle piece).

- The icon beside the word “MISSING” indicates that an assignment was turned in late.
- In this case, students should email teachers to remind them that they’ve turned in late work.

Please Note: If there was no icon and it’s marked missing, this indicates that a student hasn’t turned work in yet. The work is overdue. See next example.

ASSIGNMENTS MARKED “MISSING” WITH NO WORK TURNED IN

If an assignment is marked with the orange hexagon and the word “MISSING,” and there is no icon beside it, that means the student hasn’t done the assignment yet.
