Expert Column by Wally Pyrah

Irish trainer Jim Bolger has already tasted success at Royal Ascot this week with DAWN APPROACH – winner of the Coventry Stakes – and will be looking to double up with his exciting youngster MOVE TO STRIKE. This son of LAWMAN, spread-eagled his rivals when winning by nine lengths at the Curragh over 1200 meters on soft ground. He is sure to be suited by the extra distance, and it will be a surprise if he is beaten.

Trainer Richard Hannon who has won two of the last five running's of the Chesham Stakes is represented by JALAA who justified favouritism when making all in a small maiden race at Leicester last month. Hannon has made a good start for his new owner Hamdan Al Maktoum – four winners from his first five runners – and has Hamdan's stable jockey Paul Hanagan in the saddle.

Godolphin are represented THA'IR who got off the mark when making all in a small maiden race at Ripon last month. Frankie Dettori takes over this time and is sure to be a popular win and place choice.

Trainer Mick Channon has a handful of runners lining up, headed by recent Epsom Woodcote Stakes winner CHILWORTH ICON. This juvenile showed plenty of courage when staying on too well for his rivals, and should appreciate the 1400 meters distance. Keep an eye on Channon's EFFIE B, who ran well after being slowly away and then running on well behind subsequent Coventry Stakes fourth SIR PRANCEALOT in the 1000 meters National Stakes at Sandown. It's significant that William Buick has been booked to ride.

SELECTIONS: MOVE TO STRIKE, JALAA, EFFIE B & THA'IR

Expert Column by Wendyll Woods

Mick Channon has a good record at Royal Ascot, and his CHILWORTH ICON is of interest here. He won an informative contest, The Listed Woodcote stakes on Derby day, beating dual winner HEAVY METAL, who put in a fair performance in the Coventry Stakes earlier this week. The conditions of the race mean he needs to give weight to his other rivals, but he has place claims.

Jim Bolger trained the unbeaten DAWN APPROACH to win the Coventry Stakes on Tuesday and has another live contender in this juvenile race. MOVE TO STRIKE was an impressive nine length winner on his second start, and looks well worth the step up to Listed company.

Godolphin's team could be represented by THA'IR and LOVELY PASS, another first time winner who was strongly fancied on debut. She ran on strongly to win by over two lengths and will be partnered by Silvestre de Sousa.

Richard Hannon has made an excellent start since Sheikh Hamdan sent his horses to him and he saddles JALAA in this, who looked a very scopey individual when running on strongly to win on his debut at Leicester. His pedigree suggests he'll be better once tackling a mile, but he looks a horse with a real future and following the good effort of SIR PRANCEALOT in the Coventry Stakes on Tuesday, Hannon and Hughes can team up with a winner here.

SELECTIONS: JALAA, MOVE TO STRIKE, CHILWORTH ICON & LOVELY PASS

Has plenty of experience, winning two of his four starts and putting on a brave display to land a Listed race over 1200m at Epsom earlier this month. This more conventional track may suit him better though some stamina concerns up to 1400m.

Certainly has experience on his side, running his sixth career start today. That experience counted when he got off the mark last time in a 1200m maiden, leading from gate to wire. However some stamina worries as he moves up to a testing 1400m today.

A strong colt who has been switched to this target instead of Tuesday's 1200m Coventry Stakes. From a stable packed with two-year-old talent he made a stylish winning debut in a 1200m maiden earlier this month.

He responded willingly to strong driving to beat more experienced rivals on his recent debut run, gaining a narrow victory in that 1200m maiden. Much more on his plate here though breeding suggests no problems about this longer distance.

Unraced

Related to plenty of winners but it would be very unlikely for a previously unraced horse to beat lots of talented and more experienced rivals in a race of this nature.

A very cheap purchase and it would be remarkable – and a massive surprise – if she won this on her first start.

Streaked to a 7 length winning margin on soft ground on her second start but hasn't notably improved from that in three subsequent starts. However she was making some good late headway in Listed class over 1005m last time and looks worth a try at this longer distance.

From a stable with a very good record in two-year-old races, and she gained her first career win on her latest start - over 1200m on soft ground at York. However the quality of that race would not be nearly as strong as this one, so more needed.

She looked very inexperienced for her first start but still managed to win that 1200m maiden last month with something up her sleeve. Some form doubts as several horses from that race have been well beaten since but Lovely Pass should be well suited by the move up to 1400m.

A 25-1 outsider she ran a solid first race when runner-up to a red-hot favourite in a 1200m maiden on an all-weather surface recently. She should appreciate this longer trip and her trainer successfully targeted this prize two years ago.

Expert Column by Wally Pyrah

Trainer Aidan O'Brien who saddled last year's winner AWAIT THE DAWN is represented this time by MEMPHIS TENNESSEE who made a winning reappearance in the Ormonde Stakes at Chester in May and has had this race in mind for some time. This beautifully bred HURRICANE RUN colt was fourth in last season's English Derby and then subsequently finished third in the Irish Derby.

DUNADEN and RED CADEAUX – first and second in last year's Melbourne Cup are in opposition again. RED CADEAUX finished runner-up to ST NICHOLAS ABBEY in the Coronation Cup at Epsom earlier this month, while DUNADEN may have overdone the waiting tactics when a fast-finishing third to rival AIKEN in the Grand Prix de Chantilly over 2400 meters last time out. Top French jockey Christophe Lemaire takes the ride this time and provided the pace is quick he has a major chance of making the frame.

Fast-improving AIKEN should be on everyone's short-list having won his last six races and proving he is adaptable on all types of ground. Trainer John Gosden has been very complimentary about the SELKIRK colt – sire produces soft ground horses – and he could prove he is up to his stiffest task to date. Gosden is also represented by last season's St Leger Stakes winner MASKED MARVEL, who has yet to hit top form this season.

There will be plenty of support for Sir Michael Stoute's SEA MOON, who got off the mark for the season when making a winning reappearance over 2400 meters at Goodwood recently. This four-year-old – running in the FRANKEL colors – could potentially be the best horse in the race, having finished runner-up to ST NICHOLAS ABBEY in the Breeders' Cup Turf in Churchill Downs, and desperately unlucky when third to MASKED MARVEL in the St Leger Stakes at Doncaster.

SELECTIONS: SEA MOON, AIKEN, MEMPHIS TENNESSEE & DUNADEN

Expert Column by Wendyll Woods

RED CADEAUX is a truly admirable and tough competitor for Ed Dunlop and is sure to run well again in the Group 2 Hardwicke Stakes over 2400 meters. After some near misses, first in the Melbourne Cup and then the Cathay Pacific Hong Kong Vase, he went on to win the Yorkshire Cup this season, before a good second to ST NICHOLAS ABBEY back in Group 1 company in the Coronation Cup at Epsom. He may find a few too strong for him once again, but must come into calculations.

FIORENTE could make the frame, following some decent performances this season. He has always been touted as one with a big future, and ran well at Royal Ascot last season behind NATHANIEL. He only has a maiden victory to his name though, and must improve to figure.

AIKEN has looked like a rapid improver in 2012 rattling off a hat trick of victories, meaning he has now the last six of his seven starts. He showed a terrific attitude to win the Group 2 Grand Prix de Chantilly at the beginning of the month and with two course and distance victories to his name, he looks to have an excellent chance of giving the Buick/Gosden team a Royal winner.

DUNADEN finished third in that race at Chantilly beaten over 3 lengths, but the Cathay Pacific Hong Kong Vase and Melbourne Cup hero will give the other runners plenty to think about, and also renews his rivalry with old foe RED CADEAUX.

An interesting contender on his form in Dubai is the Marco Botti-trained JAKKALBERRY, who did not finish far behind ST NICHOLAS ABBEY and CIRBUS DES AIGLES when third in the Dubai Sheema Classic at Meydan. The form in Dubai has looked more reliable going into this season, and that effort behind two top Group 1 middle distance performers bring him solidly into contention here. He has been off the track for 84 days, but is said to be working very well on the gallops and could be a good value selection in a strong looking contest.

The standard looks to be set though, by Sir Michael Stoute's inmate, SEA MOON. Stoute also runs FIORENTE, but the excellent Ryan Moore is booked to ride this son of BEAT HOLLOW, who put in a string of excellent performances toward the end of last season. After bolting up in the Great Voltigeur Stakes at York, he was sent off a warm order to follow up in the St Leger Stakes, but finished an unlucky third. He then finished runner up to ST NICHOLAS ABBEY in the Breeders' Cup Turf before being put away for the winter. He was made to work very hard by DANDINO to win a listed race at Goodwood on his reappearance but is likely to be in prime condition for this contest.

SELECTIONS: AIKEN, SEA MOON, JAKKALBERRY & RED CADEAUX

An eight times winner usually doing best when he travels overseas and he was the winner of a Longchamp Gr.3 on very soft ground on his penultimate start. However he was well beaten (behind Aiken) last time and looks very vulnerable to younger rivals here.

Achieved glory when winning both the Melbourne Cup (3200m) last November and the Gr.1 Hong Kong Vase (2400m) in December, an extraordinary double. However he has so far not hit those heights in two runs this season, and failed to accelerate from off the pace when third to Aiken in a Gr.2 over this distance at Chantilly last time.

From a stable that have won this three times in the past ten years. This lightly-raced colt has only won a maiden race but he has been placed at Gr.3 and Gr.2 level, on the latter occasion running definitely a career best over this course and distance at Royal Ascot last year. Chances if he can return to that form.

A winner in each of the three races he has run in Listed company, but his record in Gr. company is less good. He did run quite well when third in a Gr.3 at Sandown last time but would need to do a bit better again if he is to strike here.

Won plenty of races over this distance when trained in Italy. Although he has not won since moving to Newmarket he achieved a career highlight when finishing third in a Gr.1 over 2410m at Meydan in March. Not seen since then but if in the same shape after an 84-day break he could easily make a big impact here.

Has stamina in abundance as he showed when he was a convincing winner of the 2920m St Leger – a British Classic race – at Doncaster last September. He hasn't managed to match that since but he ran a fair race when third in a Gr.1 last time. He is best on good ground or faster.

Although he did not win as a three-year-old this lightly raced colt finished a close fourth in the Gr.1 Derby at Epsom and third in the Gr.1 Irish Derby at The Curragh. He won a Gr.3 easily on his only start this season and, although he has had a break since then, he looks ready to step back into Gr.2 company here.

He easily won a Gr.3 over this course and distance last October on his first start for today's trainer. He hasn't quite lived up to that in two starts this season but he could easily improve this time. However his trainer says that he wants ground good or faster so rain might be a problem.

Has developed into a terrifically tough and consistent horse, only just failing to win the Melbourne Cup behind Dunaden who also finished just ahead of him in the Gr.1 Hong Kong Vase. He has continued to run really well in three starts at a very high level this year whilst a brutal pace here would help bring his undoubted stamina into play.

The winner of four of his seven starts and he looked very classy when accelerating to an 8 length margin in a Gr.2 over this distance at York last August. Two excellent efforts in Gr.1 company followed and though he wasn't at his best when struggling to win his only start this year, he is likely to be much sharper this time and has a good chance in a race in which his stable has excelled in.

This filly has moved from France where she won a Gr.3 and a Gr.2 last June, both times when the ground was soft. She then ran a good second in a Gr.1 before finishing well beaten in the Gr.1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. First start of 2012 and probably will have plenty on her plate against race-hardened rivals.

Expert Column by Wally Pyrah

Wonder mare BLACK CAVIAR has barely been troubled in notching up 21 consecutive wins, and should be completely different class if she reproduces her Australian form after travelling halfway around the globe. Indeed such is her theoretical superiority, a wide-margin win looks on the cards, something which is almost unheard of in Group 1 sprints.

Overseas challengers could also be in line to fill the frame. French challenger MOONLIGHT CLOUD beat SOCIETY ROCK by four lengths in the Prix Maurice de Gheest last season, and was hugely impressive when winning the Group 3 Prix du Palais-Royal on her reappearance at Longchamp earlier this month. Such was her superiority many French racing fans were of the opinion she could be BLACK CAVIAR!

Hong Kong Simulcast racing fans will already have seen Bahrain-trained KRYPTON FACTOR win the Dubai Golden Shaheen in Meydan beating the legendary ROCKET MAN, and then subsequently suffering a nightmare run in the Krisflyer International Sprint at Kranji. He looks just the type to be staying on well at the finish.

The home challenge is led by SOCIETY ROCK who caused a surprise by winning this race last season, after finishing second to STARSPANGLED BANNER in 2010. He ran well on his reappearance – would have finished closer by for suffering interference - when third in a hot sprint at York. He should prove best of the domestic defence.

GENKI, who represents the Roger Charlton stable instead of King's Stand Stakes runner-up BATED BREATH, is a likely long-shot.

SELECTIONS: BLACK CAVIAR, MOONLIGHT CLOUD, KRYPTON FACTOR & SOCIETY ROCK

Expert Column by Wendyll Woods

After FRANKEL's breathtaking performance in the Queen Anne Stakes on Tuesday, attention is now turned to Royal Ascot's other headline act, Australian sprinting sensation BLACK CAVIAR. The outstanding mare has won all 21 of her starts to date, most of them with consummate ease. She has beaten the best sprinters her country has to offer, and now takes on some new opposition on new territory. Many of these though have plenty to find with Peter Moody's flagbearer and she is difficult to oppose. She does though need to prove herself on a new track over a straight 1200 meters on an Ascot track where plenty of good horses have come unstuck in the past.

Strongly fancied to give BLACK CAVIAR a race is French raider MOONLIGHT CLOUD, who has been the subject of bullish reports from trainer Freddie Head. The four year old filly is at home on any ground and ran with credit when fifth behind DEACON BLUES on last season's inaugural QIPCO British Champions Day. She was an impressive winner on her seasonal reappearance, but now drops back in trip and faces her ultimate test against the world's greatest sprinter.

Last year's winner SOCIETY ROCK could make the frame for James Fanshawe, after running a pleasing race after a break in the Duke of York Stakes. He does look to have plenty to find with the improving MOONLIGHT CLOUD after some lacklustre efforts at the backend of last season.

Others to mention include THE CHEKA and PASTORAL PLAYER, with slight preference for the latter, who would be suited by the ground drying out further. They could vie with the excellent Meydan speedster KRYPTON FACTOR, who has some useful old turf form when he was trained in the UK.

Had an extremely rewarding time in Dubai earlier this year, winning a handicap, a Gr.3 and then producing a splendid display of speed to win a Gr.1 in late March. All those wins came on their all-weather track and things didn't go right for him back on turf when odds-on for a Gr.1 in Singapore. He can do better here but still looks vulnerable.

The first four of his five career wins came in maiden or handicap company, but he proved himself at a Gr. level last time when showing smart acceleration to land a Gr.3 over 1400m. A fast run pace over this shorter trip will suit and he does like Ascot.

Second in this race two years ago – at 50-1 – and he burst through a packed field to land a 25-1 surprise win in it last year. He clearly loves Ascot and had a decent prep for this race last month though this year's renewal does look much stronger with Black Caviar involved.

This extraordinary Australian mare will start a red hot favourite to win her 22nd consecutive race despite the fact that she is racing on the other side of the world, and the undulating track at Ascot and the possibility of soft ground will both raise issues as to whether she will be at her brilliant best. Even at less than that she could blow these rivals away.

She is a very smart French-trained filly who has won six of her ten starts, including at Gr.1 level. She kicked off this season with a stylish defeat of 14 rivals at Longchamp this month and, though that was over her favoured 1400m, the expected soft ground will play to her strengths. She could be Black Caviar's biggest danger.

Already twice a winner at this distance in 2012 though those races were only in handicap company. Running well since though finding the ground too soft last time but even on his favoured fast surface surely won't be good enough here.

Expert Column by Wally Pyrah

A 'cavalry charge' of 28 horses thundering down a straight 1200 meters is a fiendishly difficult puzzle to solve, especially when the barrier numbers could play an important part – watch out for the draw factor in the Diamond Jubilee Stakes.

Trainer James Fanshawe who won the race last year with DEACON BLUES is represented by MAC'S POWER, who won the 'stands' side' race on that occasion – finished 8th beaten just over 7 lengths - and is of obvious interest racing off a 2lbs lower mark.

Less exposed however, is ALBEN STAR, who was noted making stealthy late progress behind MAAREK at Newmarket last month, and comes from the Richard Fahey stable who has a first-rate record in competitive handicaps.

MAAREK cannot be discounted despite carrying top-weight after his Newmarket success, as he is improving all the time and the handicapper may not have caught up with him.

There has been a gamble on the Ryan Moore-ridden HIGH STANDING who sprouted wings in the last 200 meters when a fast-finishing fourth to MIRZA – beaten a length – at Newmarket a couple of weeks back. HIGH STANDING'S trainer Jeremy Gask is also represented by MEDICEAN MAN who was last seen finishing fourth to LITTLE BRIDGE in the King's Stand Stakes at Royal Ascot on Tuesday.

WAFFLE can be put on the short-list despite having never won since his debut. The northern challenger is back on the same mark in the handicap which saw him finish second to DEACON BLUES in this race last year.

DESERT LAW is 4lbs ahead of the handicapper on his second to STONE OF FOLCA in the 'Dash' at Epsom on Derby Day. Trainer Andrew Balding is said to be keen on his chances.

Keep an eye out for GRAMERCY who despite disappointing first time out at York ran exceptionally well in this race last year from a bad barrier number, has a liking for Ascot, and has shown his best form on soft ground. A similar comment with regards ground conditions can be made about Frankie Dettoni's ride ELUSIVITY who finished sixth to BATED BREATH in the Group 2 Temple Stakes at Haydock a few weeks back and has the form to go close.

SELECTIONS: GRAMERCY, ALBEN STAR, MAC'S POWER & MEDICEAN MAN

Expert Column by Wendyll Woods

The draw and pace angle usually plays a pivotal role in the outcome of this competitive sprint handicap, but there is plenty of value to be found in this race. It has actually been quite kind to punters of late, with the last three renewals throwing up winners in single digit odds with the UK bookmakers.

LUI REI looks a good starting point, having won readily on Derby day, and now carrying just a 5lb penalty in this heat. This is partly negated by the presence of excellent 7lb claiming jockey George Downing, and he still looks well handicapped on old form.

MEDICEAN MAN follows up his excellent fourth in the Group 1 King's Stand Stakes on Tuesday, then he looks a likely candidate. Due to his proximity to LITTLE BRIDGE, BATED BREATH and SOLE POWER, he will not be as well treated as he is in this in a handicap race for some time. There is a slight question mark over whether the horse will recover sufficiently, but on bare form he must be considered.

This race was won by the progressive DEACON BLUES last season, and there are plenty of sprinters going the right way in the 2012 renewal. One of these is the Richard Fahey-trained ALBEN STAR. Progressive on the all-weather, the form of his third at Kempton and latest fifth at Newmarket has been strongly franked and looks some of the best on offer. That said, he was beaten by MAAREK on this occasion, with the Irish raider racing off top weight in this. ALBEN STAR is better off at the weights this time round, and is fancied to reverse the form.

SELECTIONS: ALBEN STAR, MAAREK & MEDICEAN MAN & LUI REI

Comes here in splendid form and also seems to be improving quickly. He has won three of his last four races and powered up the Newmarket hill to win a highly competitive 1200m handicap in May on his last start. A 6lb rise in the handicap won't make it easy but soft ground will help.

From a stable now back in form after a quiet spell and this gelding should appreciate the distance and softened ground, his last win coming on those conditions. His last two runs have been respectable displays at Gr. class level and this could be a bit easier.

Irish trained but a past Ascot winner, beating a big field of handicappers over 1400m in 2010. He has won over this distance but might be vulnerable to speedier types here.

His win over 1000m on soft ground here at Ascot last August was a career best effort. He has also won over this longer journey and there were excuses for a modest display on his only 2012 start.

His last five starts have been on an all-weather surface, producing some dynamic performances to win three on the bounce including in Listed company, though not seen since a disappointment in March. His trainer says that it has taken time to realise that 1200m is his best distance.

Has won three of his five starts in 2012 and last month he sprang a 25-1 shock in a handicap over 1207m. Worries would be softening ground and the fact that previous visits to Ascot have not been successful.

Had various training issues in 2011 which led to a disappointing season. However his close second of 15 in a 1207m handicap last time suggests that he may now be returning to the better form of his two-year-old days.

Amongst his seven career victories was an excellent winning performance here at Ascot in 2011 where he easily beat off 27 rivals in a 1400m handicap. He also ran better than his finishing position of 11th might appear back here last time.

His two wins have both come at this distance whilst he also ran a cracker over 1000m at Epsom last time, finishing second in the highly competitive ‘Dash’. He sometimes races too freely but if he settles nicely today he is in with a chance in a race his stable has won before.

From a stable that specialise in sprinters and this gelding has won two of his last three races – handicaps over 1000m on soft ground and 1200m on fast ground. In his current form he could easily make an impact here.

Has a dismal strike-rate of only one win from 23 starts though he has finished second six times including a career best effort when only beaten a neck in this major handicap last year. His challenge needs to be delivered late.

She had a terrific time last summer, winning three successive races all over this distance. That has made her handicap mark difficult for this season and she has not run very prominently in two starts. From a stable that commands a lot of respect nowadays.

Has won four of his ten races, all over this distance but on a wide variety of surfaces. He came with a strong winning surge to beat a big field first time out this season, but couldn't find the same finishing kick last time out.

Has a good strike rate of five wins from 11 starts but they have all been over 1400m. Judging by a very good first run of 2012 he is still progressing, but the drop to 1200m is a worry though the super fast anticipated pace will help.

Expert Column by Wally Pyrah

Top-weight ANATOLIAN will be a popular choice especially with Frankie Dettori aboard. The four-year-old has always had a touch of class about him – has won three and been placed twice in seven runs. He was caught in the final strides in a Class2 event at Newmarket last time – ITHOUGHTITWASOVER (5TH) and CLASSIC VINTAGE (10th) – and should now be spot on.

FIERY LAD delivered under a strong Fallon 'drive' to get up close home at Epsom on Derby day and is 5lbs higher for that success. More of interest from that event could be third placed SPANISH DUKE who had an interrupted passage down the home stretch and did well to make the frame. The latter started last season on an equally encouraging note, winning first time up and then disappointed for the rest of the season. He has question marks to answer, which is a similar comment to make about his stable companion HARLESTONE TIMES who despite an eye-catching second to MOUNT ATHOS over 2800 meters recently, has always shown a preference for a faster surface.

CILL RIALAIG is an interesting contender having won this race two seasons back. Her seasonal reappearance was fair, finishing last of four beaten over 7 lengths to Hardwicke Stakes challenger SEA MOON in a listed race at Goodwood. Last season she finished sixth to DANCING RAIN in the Group 2 Qipco Champion Fillies' and Mares' at Ascot on Champions Day – had a desperate run in the home stretch – and is better than her final position suggested. Her Ascot record is two wins from three races.

Others to watch out for include RIGHT STEP, fourth in the Wolferton Handicap over 2000 meters at the Royal meeting last season, and worth ignoring his latest form, when heavily eased when his chance had gone last time, and the Aidan O'Brien challenger HARRISON'S CAVE who finished fifth when joint favorite in the Chester Cup in May. His form indicates he is better over distances beyond 2400 meters, but he looks very well handicapped.

SELECTIONS: CILL RIALAIG, ANATOLIAN, RIGHT STEP & FIERY LAD

Expert Column by Wendyll Woods

This year's Duke of Edinburgh Stakes looks an enticing renewal, full of progressive middle distance performers and other horses of interest from a handicapping perspective.

STAND TO REASON has the services of Jimmy Fortune and this quirky customer looks to have plenty of ability. He has been beaten at short odds twice at Chester since winning in the style of a well handicapped horse on his reappearance at Newbury. He does look to be more suited by plenty of ease in the ground, so his chance would be further boosted by some rain.

MIDSUMMER SUN, was much talked about when he finally made his belated debut as a three years old last season. As a half-brother to one of the most outstanding mares in recent years, MIDDAY, he is certainly bred to be able to win this sort of contest at the very least. He has won three times in total and his trainer Sir Henry Cecil still holds him in high regard.

One horse that MIDSUMMER SUN beat last season was Mark Johnston's ITHOUGHTITWASOVER, who also has form tied in with top weight ANATOLIAN amongst others in this race. He looks a dependable enough animal, and is sure to run creditably once more. He goes on any ground and looks tactically versatile and has a squeak for the trainer who trained his third winner of the race when saddling FOX HUNT to win in 2011.

Three of his four career wins have come over this distance, including a conditions race victory on his first start of 2012. He travelled nicely in front in a Listed race at Leopardstown last time but ran out of gas over that 2800m on heavy ground, finishing last of four.

From the stable that have won this twice in the past three years. He has been very progressive this season with two wins over this distance and an unlucky fifth last time when squeezed out early on. He still looks competitive off this handicap mark.

Looking well handicapped on form earlier in his career he burst back to form at Epsom this month, coming with a storming run to win that decent handicap. However he has a stiffer task here, and this race is usually won by younger less exposed horses.

The mount of Silvestre de Sousa who has bounced back to form after a losing spell. Alkimos won twice over 2000m last year but was well beaten on all three starts at Meydan in 2012 despite twice starting favourite.

Her career continues on an upward path, and considering that she generally competes in tough handicaps her strike-rate of five wins from 11 starts is very good. She stormed to another easy victory last time for which she has been punished 9lbs but this longer distance might bring more progress.

She won this race two years ago, a terrific effort that day. She hasn't won in eight starts since but she performed well enough on her only start this season - though last of four - and this race will have been the target.

Following his excellent win in a 2000m handicap in April 2011, he went right off the boil mostly finishing last or nearly last. Trying this distance for only the second time in his career he showed much more sparkle at Epsom last time out.

From a stable that have already enjoyed Royal Ascot success this week and Camborne looks to have a chance here after a massively improved effort when destroying his opposition last time, either the move up to this distance or the application of cheekpieces causing that excellent display.

A four-year-old who has only had seven starts with his two wins coming at this distance. He seems improved this season, smashing weaker opposition first time and running an equally good fourth in a stronger race more recently.

A rare French raider to a Royal Ascot handicap though his English-born trainer has been successful with this play before. He has won five of his eleven starts, most recently when moved up to 3000m. With stamina on his side, he'll want a fast pace here.

A difficult horse to read as his ability is often disguised by a lack of consistency. He was certainly in the mood at Chester last time when a return to front-running tactics worked perfectly, the soft ground also suiting.

Responded to first-time blinkers to gain his sixth and latest career win over this distance last September. Just fair in two starts since and he needs to find a bit more.

Has been beaten a long way on his last four starts over a variety of distances. However he is from a formidable stable and he did win a couple of big-field handicaps last season. He appears to love soft ground.

Has never raced over this distance before, his wins coming over 1600m and 2000m. He has run well on all starts this season though the weak early pace didn't help him last time. Soft ground would be ideal.

Expert Column by Wally Pyrah

This is the longest race in the Flat racing calendar. OVERTURN would be one of the most popular winners of the Royal Ascot week and has first-rate chance, especially after just failing to repeat his 2011 Chester Cup success (3200 meters) under a welter-weight of 136lbs at Chester in May. Although he coped well with the soft ground that day, it's not his optimum conditions and he faces a difficult task if the going rides soft.

Normally this race is full of National Hunt horses (UK jumpers), but surprisingly there are some class individuals lining up. PETARA BAY finished fourth in the highly-competitive race over 3200 meters at Newcastle on soft ground last season, and on that form has a huge chance.

Another horse with a touch of class is ZUIDER ZEE from the John Gosden stable. A winner of four of his 18 races, he is an unpredictable character who has plenty of ability – fourth to OPINION POLL last season - but sometimes doesn't fancy racing! If he decides to put his best foot forward, he has a major frame chance.

Last year's winner SWINGKEEL lines up again – runner-up ELYAADI renews rivalry – but will have to step up markedly on his reappearance form when last of 15 at Newmarket recently. His trainer John Dunlop has been out of form so far this season so maybe that was his excuse, because it's hard to forget his easy success in this race last year.

An interesting challenger from France is SHAHWARDI, formerly owned by the Aga Khan. This Alain De Royer-Dupre contender has always looked a long distance stayer in the making, and may appreciate the marathon trip.

The Willie Mullins trained-SIMENON looked like he had just joined the race at the 400-meter marker when destroying his rivals in the 4000 meters Ascot Stakes at the Royal meeting on Tuesday. Providing he has got over that race – he won by six lengths – he is going to be difficult to beat again. Champion National Hunt trainer Paul Nicholls runs AMERICAN TRILOGY who seems no longer to relish the jumping game, but won Aintree's charity flat race under Michael Kinane. He could prove a long-shot.

SELECTIONS: SIMENON, PETARA BAY, ZUIDER ZEE & OVERTURN

Expert Column by Wendyll Woods

A gruelling test awaits the competitors for the Queen Alexandra Stakes, which looks like it will feature some useful jumps performers switching discipline. The best of these could be SIMENON, who is likely to take his place after an impressive six length victory in the Ascot Stakes on Tuesday under a 6lb penalty. He won't be this well handicapped on the flat for some time, and the trainer has stated that if the horse is over Tuesday's exertions, he'll line up in an attempt to claim a memorable Royal Ascot staying double.

Another with a solid chance is the French raider SHAHWARDI who has plenty of useful form in listed company over middle/long distances. He is partnered by the excellent Gerald Mosse and provided he stays this extreme trip, he could have the pace required to play a big part in the finish.

AMERICAN TRILOGY will be Champion National Hunt Trainer Paul Nicholls's first Royal Ascot participant. He was a useful flat performer in France before coming to the UK and beginning a career over obstacles. He is a quirky sort, but does possess plenty of ability and is sure to be ready to fire for a trainer who must be very excited to run him.

GOLDEN SUNBIRD comes over from Ireland and looks exceptionally well-treated off his handicap mark of 88. Paul Nolan has booked Kieren Fallon for the ride and after some pleasing efforts over jumps, looks to have strong claims. He won two National Hunt flat races several years ago and he looks completely unexposed in this discipline, running well over an inadequate trip when second last time out. He is bottom weight in this and along with SIMENON, he gives the Irish a very good chance of taking this race.

SELECTIONS: SIMENON, SHAHWARDI, GOLDEN SUNBIRD & AMERICAN TRILOGY

Finished third to a potential Group 1 contender over 2400m here at Ascot last time out, having won over 2409m on his previous start. He is stepping up significantly in distance here and will need to stay whilst his best runs so far have been on soft or heavy ground.

Third in this race two years ago and with soft conditions in his favour last year he won it, his reserves of stamina proving decisive in the closing stages. Must be respected again though he did finish a remote last on his only 2012 start and the stable have been very quiet all season.

Must be respected coming from the UK's leading jump race stable. He has some very good hurdling form recently and was useful on the Flat when trained in France back in 2007 and 2008. He should have no stamina worries.

Romped to an easy victory in a 3200m handicap here in August 2010 but has only raced four times since. He has shown some promise of a revival in two starts this season.

Having his first start on the Flat since leaving France in 2008, and also his first start for his current stable, he ran a cracking third in a 3600m handicap last time. He should be OK for this longer trip and soft ground would not worry him either.

His last seven races have been over hurdles, though mostly beaten a long way. He ran in a Gr.3 on the Flat here in 2010 – finishing a respectable fifth. However it is very hard to imagine that he can win this.

A very popular staying horse who is equally at home at the top level over hurdles or in high class handicaps on the Flat with a career total of 11 wins from 36 starts. Second both in the country's top hurdle race and a major hurdle handicap on last two starts. His trainer does not want soft ground for him over this marathon distance.

He ended a 14-race losing sequence when narrowly winning a 2800m handicap last July. He has a touch of class but there must be some major stamina issues on this first start for nearly a year.

Has proven stamina, almost winning over a distance close to this one last time, setting a steady pace and then battling back bravely in that handicap. However he does have plenty to find with some of these rivals on pure ratings.

Looked as though marathon distances were up his street when a close second in a 4200m handicap last summer. Down the field over an inadequate distance on his only start this season, but his talented trainer has targeted this event for some time.

He won his first three career starts but has failed to follow up in 12 subsequent outings. However his French trainer always deserves respect when he travels horses to the UK and if Shahwardi handles this extreme distance he could run well.

A four times winner from a top stable and he ran a cracker last time out when a close fourth in a Gr.3 over 3271m at Sandown. With class on his side it just depends on whether this even longer trip is in his favour, if so he is a serious contender.

Decent over both fences and hurdles – winning six times in all. Having only her first start in a Flat race she ran a decent second 39 days ago. Soft or heavy ground would be ideal.

Black Caviar the undisputed star of Royal Ascot's Saturday simulcast

Viewers enjoying Saturday's six-race simulcast programme at Royal Ascot will, at 10.45pm (HK time), get to witness the Australian superstar Black Caviar's dramatic attempt to win her 22nd consecutive victory in the Diamond Jubilee Stakes.

Massive media coverage has followed this extraordinary mare since she touched down in England and, though few are daring to predict defeat in the 1200m sprint, her trainer Peter Moody confesses: "It is a massive risk. It is strange that we have to travel three-quarters of the way around the world to meet inferior opposition for inferior prizemoney for her to stamp her greatness."

Moody's comment seems to be acknowledging that however many races Black Caviar wins back in Australia, it is a defeat of Northern Hemisphere opposition on their own territory at massively prestigious Royal Ascot that will elevate the six-year-old's worldwide reputation to a new dimension. But with British-Australian sporting rivalry as strong as ever don't expect any sentimentality on the part of her local rivals as Luke Nolen's mount attempts to achieve another extraordinary goal.

This Group 1 spectacular, which has been renamed this year in honour of the Queen's 60th anniversary as British Monarch, was won by Hong Kong challenger Cape Of Good Hope back in 2005 (when the meeting was run at York) but has traditionally been less vulnerable to overseas sprinters than Tuesday's King's Stand Stakes.

However Black Caviar appears to be in an utterly different class to the best of the British and the chance that she may not just win but obliterate her rivals on Saturday is something that every Australian – and not only racing fans – will be hoping for.

The day's simulcast action opens with the Chesham Stakes (9.30pm, HK time) which is a Listed class race for two-year-olds over 1400m. Trainer Aidan O'Brien won this last year and, judging by the stable's entries for the 2012 renewal, Coolmore's Irish operation again look to have serious intent.

Last year's Melbourne Cup winner Dunaden is an expected challenger for the Group 2 Hardwicke Stakes (10.05pm, HK time) and the French-trained horse might find Red Cadeaux, who came within a whisker of beating him on the other side of the world last November, back in opposition. Fast improving Aiken, winner of his last six starts, could be a live threat to both of them over Ascot's 2400m.

The Wokingham Stakes (11.25pm, HK time) is one of the biggest betting races of the five-day meeting. Despite the massively competitive nature of this 1200m dash, it has gone to very well-backed contenders for the last three years, with big-race specialist Johnny Murtagh riding the winner in both 2010 and 2011.

By contrast the winner of the Duke of Edinburgh Stakes (12am, Sunday, HK time) has rarely been shouted out loudly by the betting market in recent times. However anything that trainer Mark Johnston sends to the race is definitely worth a second look as he has successfully targeted this 2400m handicap for two of the last three years.

The Queen Alexandra Stakes (12.35am, Sunday, HK time) is the longest Flat race of the year, over 4345m. Overturn is one of the most popular horses in the UK due to his toughness and consistency both on the Flat and in top races over hurdles, and a win from him would bring the house down in the final event of this most famous of racemeetings.

Black Caviar thriving but Moonlight Cloud could be a potent Royal Ascot threat

Tony Haydon, assistant trainer to Peter Moody believes that super mare Black Caviar is thriving ahead of Saturday's Gr.1 Diamond Jubilee Stakes, and considers her to be in even better form than before she left for Britain.

Tony Haydon said: "She's as good as ever and Luke (Nolen) rode in a bit of work on Tuesday. It would have been the most serious piece of work since she's been here but Pete (Moody) had her pretty straight before she got to England. She worked on the grass on the Limekilns gallop (at Newmarket) and loved it. It's all a bit new to her, but she had a mate with her and it went well."

Interestingly, although no female has won this sprint since its equivalent race way back in 1988, it is the four-year-old filly Moonlight Cloud whom the betting suggests could offer the biggest threat to the brilliant Australian mare's chance of extending her winning sequence to 22 in Saturday's much anticipated 1200m dash.

Trained by former French champion jockey Freddie Head in Chantilly, Moonlight Cloud returned after a seven month break in a Gr.3 at Longchamp three weeks ago, speeding past her rivals down the outside for a slick victory. Head, who trained the brilliant mare Goldikova to win a remarkable 14 Gr.1 races so he knows a bit about handling star females. He said: "I am itching to take on Black Caviar. My filly has an awful lot of class and, although she mostly races over 1400m, she has extraordinary speed. And she won't mind the ground."

Head's reference to the ground stems from the fact that although Little Bridge's brilliant King's Stand Stakes on Tuesday took place in drying conditions, a serious belt of rain has hit Ascot and testing conditions now look possible for Saturday.

Veteran rider Thierry Jarnet will partner Moonlight Cloud but, Gerald Mosse, a French jockey who is even better known in Hong Kong, has opportunities of winning the Queen Alexandra Stakes – the final race of Royal Ascot's five-day spectacle.

Mosse partners Shahwardi, trained by Alain de Royer-Dupre and is another Chantilly raider at 2012 Royal Ascot. The Queen Alexandra is most famous for its extreme distance – and six-year-old Shahwardi is stepping up massively from his recent second over 2400m at Chantilly.

Amongst Shahwardi's expected opposition is Irish trained Simenon whom simulcast viewers will have seen winning the Ascot Stakes on Tuesday. Ryan Moore's mount has reportedly thrived since that stylish win leading to this quick return to action. Although it would be a remarkable achievement to win both Royal Ascot races, it would not be unprecedented with a horse called Baddam doing the double in 2006.

Track Analysis

Ascot Racecourse - Diamond Jubilee Stakes Day

Racing in a clockwise direction, Ascot is a triangular yet undulating venue measuring 2800 meters for a single lap, and well-known for its enormous track width, on top of which features a 1600-meter straight mile course adjoining the homestretch at the final corner, and facilitates straight contests up to a mile.

For both the Diamond Jubilee Stakes and the Wokingham Stakes at 1200 meters, and the 1400-meter Chesham Stakes, all fields will contest over the straight mile course. Effective from last year, starting positions for both afore-mentioned stakes are numbered reversely back in from the grandstand side, where the highest drawn runner will break from the outer rail. Reviewing last year's Royal meeting, horses starting close to the grandstand side did get a slight edge over others to the inside or in the middle of the course – particularly for huge fields of 20 or more.

For the Hardwicke Stakes and Duke of Edinburgh Stakes to be staged at 2400 meters, fields will first race along a 800-meter straight section through the Swinley's Bottom, then enter the 1600-meter Old Mile course with still a gradual ascent. Just before hitting the tight final corner, runners will find the track slightly but suddenly dropping away from them, where horses going wide in this section will both lose considerable ground and balance. As an interesting point mirroring the straight mile course nonetheless: regarding the fact that the round course stages mainly routing distances of at least 1600 meters or further, with presumably more ground to recover, a high draw has not been too difficult to overcome in races starting on the round course - even in large fields.

Meanwhile, be it for straight dashes or the full course, fields have to fight for Ascot glory over the homestretch of over 500 meters. With a sudden and steep ascent from the top of the straight till the final 100 meters, on top of all the ups and downs throughout the course, it is a genuine challenge to many an aspiring Royal Ascot starter.
