

Construction Superintendent Position

RJ Russo a fast-paced growing structural steel construction, erection, fabrication & misc metals company seeking a full-time superintendent. The superintendent is integral team member within the Project Management Team. They are responsible for schedules, coordination and supervision of field employees for assigned work performed. This position offers high-visibility, growth opportunities, exciting projects and long-term employment with RJ Russo.

Job Description

As a superintendent your main responsibility will be to oversee in the field, structural steel erection, fabrication, miscellaneous & manufacturing metals. You will be required to read drawings, blueprints, specifications, and related documents. RJ Russo is AISC and AWS Certified adhering to stringent guidelines, processes and procedures. You'll be responsible for your field team's success as well as meeting scheduled deadlines.

Superintendent Requirements

- Study project proposals plans and specifications to determine time frames, funding limitations, procedures for project completion, staffing requirements and available resources to various phases of project
- Meet all contractual obligations and terms of such project are maintained.
- Assures proper accounting communications with accurate change orders with office personnel
- Confer with and direct supervisory personnel engaged in planning and executing work procedures, interpreting specifications, and coordinating various phases of construction to prevent delays
- Confer with management team to address employee concerns and maintain a positive and motivated workforce
- Maintain quality and safety training and conformance standards throughout the project as well as communicate with Safety Manager any concerns
- Coordinate supervisory, engineering, inspectors, contractors, detailers, field & shop crews and suppliers to resolve any problems with materials and methods
- Inspect all work in progress to ensure it meets and conforms with RJ Russo's QMS/SMS Manual & Procedures per AISC Standards/Guidelines
- Prepare and review reports on progress, materials and costs, and adjust work schedules as indicated by reporting methods
- Establish and maintain an effective and professional onsite working relationship with Owner, Architects, Consulting Engineers and others related to the project
- Multi-task!!

Education and Experience (required)

- Bachelor's degree from a 4 year college in Construction Management, Architecture, Engineering or related field. AWS Certified (not required)
- Minimum 4-5 years progressive and/or steel related work experience in construction management

Skills and Knowledge (required)

- Effective verbal and written communication skills, including the ability to foster and maintain effective interpersonal relationships
- Proficient in Word, Excel, Outlook, PowerPoint, Salesforce, PlanGrid, BlueBeam, Fabtrol
- Must have knowledge and/or experience with AISC Certification and AWS Guidelines & Procedures

- Commitment to the core values of RJ Russo with attention to honesty and integrity, quality of work, customer satisfaction, people development, profitability and managing change
- While performing the duties of this job, the position is very active, standing, walking reaching, bending, kneeling, stooping, crouching throughout the day
- Must be able to lift and/or move items up to 50 pounds
- Certified and/or trained in heavy equipment operations
- OSHA 10 Certified a must (we offer online training prior to starting)

Benefits

- Vacation, Paid Holidays, Dental Insurance, Health Insurance, 401k with company match

Full-TimePay (DOE)

- Salary
- $65,000 to $100,000

How to Apply

- Please email your resume to sales@rjrussoinc.com.