The AC-3000's ability to streamline data management for increased efficiency and convenience make it the perfect choice for store-wide online systems. It offers up to 176 preset keys and allows data such as PLU information and price changes to be easily entered. Furthermore, reports can be generated on demand, even while the network is in operation.

The AC-3000 also features flexible print formats that enable the creation of unique labels with coupons, eye-catching messages, or nutritional fact tables. In addition, the AC-3000 can use continuous plain label paper, allowing the utmost freedom in label production. It offers seven different character sizes which can be italicized, underlined, and bold-faced. Horizontal or vertical printing can be chosen, while reverse printing as well as logo and graphic printing are also available.

The AC-3000's easy-to-read display shows up to nine promotional messages in a flashing or scrolling format. The dual-faced display delivers convenience for both the operator and the customer.
