Have a short-term project?

Don't have the expertise but need the data?

Don't want to invest in costly new equipment or training?

Agilent's CSP program let researchers use our leading NGS target enrichment products and microarrays without the cost or technical challenges of implementing Agilent protocols in their own labs. With an Agilent CSP, you get reliable results from a validated lab – you'll receive the same reliable, high-quality data that you've come to expect from Agilent.

SureSelect Target Enrichment

Agilent's Target Enrichment CSPs offer the full range of SureSelect DNA and RNA capture products. Supporting the major NGS platforms, CSPs offer custom kits for any genome, or catalog products targeting the human exome and kinome for faster, more efficient next-generation sequencing studies.

Microarrays

Agilent's Microarray CSPs have been validated to run any of our microarray applications in either catalog or custom format, including gene expression, exon arrays and miRNA, aCGH, DNA methylation and ChIP-on-chip. From sample preparation to data analysis, CSPs provide you with high quality microarray data for more effective gene expression and genomic structural analysis studies.
